

science at the theater

LAWRENCE BERKELEY NATIONAL LABORATORY'S COMMUNITY LECTURE SERIES AT BERKELEY REP

free!

ALL LECTURES
5:30 – 7:00 PM

Berkeley Repertory Theatre
2025 Addison Street
Berkeley, California

Presented by Berkeley Lab Friends of Science
Co-sponsored by the University of California at Berkeley,
Chabot Space & Science Center, The Exploratorium,
Lawrence Hall of Science, Osher Lifelong Learning
Institute@Berkeley, and the Science Departments of Albany, Berkeley, and Oakland High Schools

JERRY TUSKAN

Joint Genome Institute, Co-Lead on Laboratory Science Program / ORNL Distinguished Scientist / University of Tennessee, Professor, Entomology, Plant Pathology & Plant Sciences

THE HELIOS TALKS

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2008

Genomic Advances to Improve Biomass for Biofuels

MARY ANN PIETTE

LBLN Scientist, Environmental Energy Technologies Division / Deputy Group Leader, Commercial Buildings Systems Group

THE HELIOS TALKS

MONDAY, MARCH 10, 2008

Saving Power at Peak Hours

JOE GREY

LBLN Life Sciences Director / UCSF, Professor of Laboratory Medicine & Radiation Oncology

MINA BISSEL

LBLN Distinguished Scientist / Life Sciences Senior Advisor / 2007 Pezcoller Foundation-AACR Award

MARY HELEN BARCELLOS-HOFF

LBLN Senior Scientist / UCSF, Professor of Anatomy

MONDAY, APRIL 21, 2008

Genes and the Microenvironment: The Two Faces of Breast Cancer

NATE LEWIS

California Institute of Technology Professor of Chemistry / LBNL Solar Energy Research Center Scientist

THE HELIOS TALKS

MONDAY, MAY 12, 2008

Molecular Materials for Solar Energy