

BERKELEY LAB

Bringing Science Solutions to the World

Berkeley Lab Training

FAC 0111 Backflow Assembly Tester Recertification

Course Syllabus

Subject Category: FAC PMT certification

Course Prerequisite: FAC 0110

Course Length: 12hours

Course Mode: Vendor provided

Refresher: FAC 0111 (3 years)

Medical Approval: None

Course Purpose: The purpose is to meet the recertification requirements for Backflow certification. The training prepares the student for passing the AWWA, NCBPA general tester exam needed to remain certified testers.

Training Topics

- Test procedures for reduced pressure assembly. Troubleshooting and the applications used to test, locate, repair and replace the defective parts.
- Test procedure for double check valve. Troubleshooting and the applications used to test and locate the defective parts.
- Test procedures for pressure vacuum breaker. Troubleshooting and the applications used to test and locate the defective parts.
- Test procedures for spill resistant pressure vacuum breaker. Troubleshooting and the applications used to test and locate the defective parts.

Training Requirements: Title 17 of California's Code of sections 7583 through 7605. Section 7605(b)

Instructor/vendor: www.sierrabackflowtrainingcenter.com

Course Instructional Materials: instructor-led

Practical or performance Assessment / Exam:

Retraining/Recertification: Yes (FAC 0111 is the refresher every three years)

Course Evaluation: Vendor provided training